The Prussians have entered Altona on the 12th.

PREPARING FOR THE STORM—GERMANY.—Unhappy Saxony which finds herself between the anvil and the hammer, is doing what she can to keep her treasure out of harm's way. The magnificent collection of the galleries of Dresden have been transferred to forts in Bohemia. The merchants of Leipsic have made up their minds that they have no other alternative than to suffer patiently the evils they and their king have been powerless to avert. The loss of property there should the Prussians enter that town, will be felt in every part of Germany and in the surrounding States, for Leipsic is the mart to Western Russia, Poland, Bohemia, South Prussia, Hungary, and the most of the States of the Confederation. This town is comparatively unprotected and strategically exposed on the part of Prussia.

Since I began my letter the news arrived that the majority of the Diet whose opinion Austria and Saxony went through the formality of denouncing in the overbearing despatches of Bismarck, have decided against Prussia. This decision is not to be trusted lightly under existing circumstances. Austria is able to give cohesion to the scattered forces at the command of the Diet.

Bavaria is at the head of the minor Powers who have pronounced for Austria. She has a disposable force of 200,000. Fears are entertained at Vienna that this Power is flirting with Prussia, who tempts her to an alliance by promising the Wittlesbachs the leadership in Southern Germany, the Hapsburg deposed. The influence of the Jesuits, which is very considerable at Munich, may be taken as a set off against the bribes of Bismarck. The Society naturally lean toward the Hapsburg, who are staunch Catholics and on the eve of making war on the excommunicated king of Italy.

Hanover, the next greatest State, commanding an army of 26,000, dreads her aggressive neighbor, and while taking against her fears to offend her. Saxony, with 20,000 may be relied on. Wurtemburg, and her 30,000 is entirely in the leading-strings of Prussia. The Queen is a daughter of the Czar Nicholas, and wears the pantaloons. Baden, where the [illegible] is not likely to vex France by sending 15,000 soldiers to fight for Austria. Besides, the Grand Duchess is a Prussian Princess and devoted to the interests of her family. The Grand Duke prides himself on being a cousin of the Emperor. Grand Ducal Hesse acknowledges the supremacy of Russia. But the marriage of the heir to the English Princess causes a split in the camp. 2,000 Hessians are hardly to be counted on by Francis Joseph however friendly their leaders may feel towards him. The Duke of Saxe Cobourg who was powerful enough to raise the Danish devil!! thanks to his English connections would cut but a poor figure with his 2,200 men behind him. Brunswick, Saxe Meiningen, Weimar, Altenbourg, Leichtenstein, Reuss Nos. I and II, Hesse Homburg, the two Lippes and Waldeck, can estimate their combined forces at 2,500 strong. 600,000 Austrians united to the armies of the lesser German States would bring the South German forces up to nearly 1,000,000 soldiers. Prussia with her North German allies whose nomenclature is as long as Homer's catalogue of the Greek ships, can muster 450,000. The North German army it will be seen is the least numerous, but it is the most compact of the two. Besides, the Italian army will divert the Austrian forces, which will more than compensate for the odds in numbers to say nothing of the moral effect of a French army of observation near the Bavarian frontier.—*Paris Cor. PRE-HISTORIC REMAINS.—A great deal of interest was excited last year by the discovery of some human bones, flint implements, etc., by Mr. Laing in mounds at Caithness. The learned interpretation of Prof. Huxley and Prof. Owen were sought and obtained. The peculiar construction of the mounds was elaborately described by Mr. Laing, the adult skeleton was pronounced to have ape like peculiarities and the jawbone of an infant which was submitted to Prof. Owen was said to have certain marks which were painfully indicative of the cannibalistic habits of our prehistoric progenitors. The Ethnological and Anthropological societies had rival discussions, and a great deal of erudite dissertation and debate took place which is preserved in print. At the last meeting of the [illegible] society it was broadly stated by several persons who have since examined these mounds that not any of these contain any traces of pre-historic ages. The harbor mound is composed almost entirely of limpets, and the churchyard mound of periwinkle shells! The harbor mound contain a pair of weaver's shears and was itself the ruins of a common corn kiln of the country. The stone implements were said to be [illegible] the Birkle Hills instead of being places of worship and sacrifice, were thought to be natural hillocks of blown sand, which had served as the rendezvous of country folks [illegible] wrecks. The ape-like skeleton is stated to be the remains of a Danish seaman and the jawbone of the child which affords indications of cannibalism to have been procured from a neighboring churchyard. Coins are said to have been found among the [illegible] remains belonging, not to the age of the great ark but to the reign of William III. The controversy on the authenticity of the Abbeville jawbone will probably dash before the battle over these mounds at Keiss.—Pall Mall Gazette.

The Wine-growing Interests of California—The Tax on the Native Products of the Grape.

Your fellow citizen, J. Ross Browne, is here in the capacity of special agent of the wine growers of California, urging the entire exemption of native wines from taxation, and he appears confident of success. It is proper to remark that if the agent fails in securing the object desired it will not be from any lack of energy and intelligent management on his own part. The arguments presented by Mr. Browne in support of his proposition to the Ways and Means Committee of Congress seem to cover the whole ground. He devotes particular attention to the natural advantages of California as a wine producing country, and follows up the history of the grape in this State from the earliest undertaking of the Spanish priests, and shows that from San Diego to Columbia river the vine grows luxuriantly with or without cultivation. It shows that the vine is now cultivated at San Diego, Los Angeles, Santa Barbara, Stockton, San Jose, Napa, Sonoma, throughout the valleys and in the mining districts, but, up to this date, without any profitable result to those engaged in the business. A great difficulty has been the inexperience of the people. When they commenced they knew little or nothing about the cultivation of the grape, or the manufacture of wine; consequently there were many failures. Those who followed the European system were even more unfortunate than they who adopted the old Spanish method. The whole business was purely experimental, and it was only by practical experiments that the proper method could be determined. The high rate of interest on capital and the great length of time required to bring the wines to a paying condition, were serious obstacles to success. An erroneous impression prevails that vines bear the third year. There may, indeed, be a few bunches of grapes on each vine at that age, but not enough to pay for gathering. In the fourth year they probably pay for the cultivation of that year. The fifth year they pay a little more than the expenses of cultivation. The sixth year they are in good bearing condition, but do not yield much profit. The seventh and eighth years they yield a fair per centage on the cost of cultivation, but there is no return for the three or four years during which there was a constant expenditure of labor and capital. In California the wine growers have been compelled to borrow money at from two to three per cent a month to carry on their vineyards during these unproductive years. The cost of cellars, vats, casks, etc., is also an enormous item in a new country. Many who commenced twelve years ago with a cash capital, say of $25,000, have never earned more than a bare subsistence. It requires at least twelve years of constant toil to bring the best vineyards into a paying condition, and this without making any allowance for failure of crops.

The receipts of Revenue from the wine tax are trifling, whilst they fall heavily on the wine grower. The total revenue derived from this source in California was

In 1863	$1,780 20
In 1864	6,350 08
In 1865	17,272 08

The total tax collected on wines and brandies manufactured from grapes in the United States was only $45,000, of which the total on wines was $35,000. To collect this tax requires in each district the services of at least two officers, so that in reality it costs the Government nearly if not quite the amount of the tax to collect it. Under the present system of taxation the wine-growing interest must be ruined, but give the wine growers a chance and they will in time build up a business that will bring a large revenue to the Government. The act of July, 1864, imposes a tax on foreign wines of all kinds of the value not exceeding 50 cents per gallon, of 20 cents per gallon, and 25 per cent. ad valorem. This affords no material protection. The native wine cannot be put in the market in San Francisco for less than from 90 cents to $1 25 per gallon. Whereas the lower grades of foreign wines paying the above duty are sold every day from 75 to 80 cents per gallon. The wine growers only ask that they be permitted to place their struggling interest, now in its infancy, upon such a firm basis as will enable them in the future to contribute more liberally to the expense of the Government than they possibly can now.—Washington Cor. S. F. Bulletin.

A good, and what is better, an unpublished and authentic story about Mr. Lincoln, came to me the other day from a "reliable" friend. Conversing with Hon. James A. Briggs, formerly State Agent of Ohio in New York, one day at the White House, the late President said in reference to the rush of office-seekers and their ingenious devices to secure his attention: "Why, Briggs, I believe there is even a system of female brokerage in offices here in Washington, for I am constantly beset by women of all sorts, high and low, pretty and ugly, modest and the other sort. Here, yesterday, a very handsome young woman called; she would not take a denial, was admitted, and went straight to work soliciting a certain office for somebody supposed to be her husband. She plead his cause dexterously, eloquently, and at times was almost successful by her importunate entreaties. By degrees she came closer and closer to me, as I sat in my chair, until really her face came so near my own that I thought she wanted me to kiss her. When my indignation came to my relief, and, drawing myself back and straightening myself up, I gave her the proper sort of a look and said: 'Mrs. ——, you are very pretty, and it's very tempting, but I won't.'"—*Cor. OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE 30, 1866.

Prospective Value of Land in Oregon.

The time will undoubtedly come when good land on the Pacific coast will be as valuable as it now is on the Atlantic side. Situated as Oregon is on the direct line which commerce will take between the eastern portions of our country and the populous regions beyond the Pacific, she will one day have a very large population. The treasures and products of her soil will be called for so soon as communication is opened with the East by railroad, and with the West by lines of steamers and packet ships. Production will be stimulated to its utmost capacity and every spot of land that can be made fruitful will be brought under the hand of the cultivator. Population in the United States increases faster than in any other country in the world, being doubled every twenty-five years. Immigrants from Europe consisting mostly of persons who desire to attach themselves permanently to the soil, never came over so fast as now. Foreigners who bring their families are usually ambitious to become owners of land, and to establish themselves in comfortable, though laborious independence. In the great Mississippi Valley there is little arable land which remains unappropriated. Those who are seeking places for settlement must look further West. It is true that land is comparatively cheap in many parts of the country, but low as it is offered, it is often beyond the means of the landless to make purchases. In a few years the last remaining portions of the public domain that are fit for cultivation, will be taken up by settlers under the Homestead Law, and after that, with population crowding rapidly upon us, land must necessarily rise in value throughout the whole country. It is true that the Interior Department reports many hundreds of millions of acres of unoccupied lands, but three-fourths, and probably a larger proportion than this, of these lands are now, and will forever remain unfit for settlement. With the exception of the small valleys, which do not comprise one-fifth of their area, the Territories east of us are quite valueless for the purposes of farming. The great valleys of the Arkansas and Platte are arid wastes; but even if they were productive, the lack of timber would be an obstacle to their settlement. Towards the sources of the Columbia and Missouri, are many rich valleys of small extent, and these are now filling up rapidly with an agricultural population. In Oregon there are yet many small, fertile districts which are unoccupied, but their aggregate area will bear but a very small proportion to the sum total of the public lands which the State contains. Good farming lands in the most desirable localities in the State can yet be purchased at low rates—quite as low as elsewhere in the United States. But land in Oregon will not long remain so cheap as now. For the same reasons that it is certain to rise in value in other parts of the country, it is also sure to rise in value here. Besides, the proximity of Oregon to the sea coast, and her position in relation to commerce, must make land much more valuable here than it is in the middle of the continent. Now is certainly the time for all who expect or intend to purchase land for a future home to secure it.

THE SAGE BRUSH ROUTE ABANDONED.—The Red Bluff Independent of the 20th inst. says:

> We have heard it repeatedly asserted that the organization of the Teamsters' Association, has been the means of stopping freight coming to this place for Owyhee, etc. We learned from Mr. Nourse, at Chico Landing that no freight has come up the river for the other side of the mountains for some time past and that there is little likelihood of any coming up as long as the opposition to Portland keeps running. Freight to Portland is only $4 per ton, and it is impossible to compete against it. The teamsters have enough to contend against—be easy with them.

Now that we have cheap freights from San Francisco, the opportunity is presented to Portland to obtain complete control over the mining trade of the North. The reduction of freights to this place has already paralyzed the overland route from California to Owyhee. It will also enable this city to overreach St. Louis in the competition for the Montana trade. We cannot expect ship-owners to carry freights at losing rates; but we should endeavor to get our carrying done on as low terms as they can do it. We hear that there is a fair profit in freights from San Francisco to Portland even at three dollars per ton, and by the confession of the Red Bluff paper, we see what the reduction has done to increase the business of this city.

Henry A. Wise lately made a speech at Richmond, of which the following is an extract:

> "If I am a traitor why don't they try me and hang me? I have lost my lands and property, but I would clean boots on your streets sooner than bow to usurpation. If I had triumphed, I should have favored stripping them naked. Pardon! They might have appealed for pardon, but I would have seen them damned before I would have granted it."

There can be no doubt that Wise tells the truth about what the chivalry would have done if they had triumphed. If the North had been subjugated as the South has been, the revengeful Southerners would have hung their victims on gibbets in every Northern hamlet, and would have literally stripped all their enemies naked. And the Copperheads of the North, including those of the Herald who are now so violently denouncing the "bloody minded Radicals," would have said amen to the proceeding, and assisted in its execution.

> Had the clearly understood will of the majority of the people been respected by the Radicals there would have been no war.—Herald.

The Herald's kind of "people" were willed to divide the Union. Had the "Radicals" respected that will, there would have been no war, nor Union either. There is no use talking about the "will of the majority" though, unless the Northern Democracy be added to the Southern, in which case there would have been a "majority" in favor of disunion. This must be understood from the Herald's article which figured up a majority against the "Radicals" by classing Southern Democrats and Northern Democrats together. This admission of the Herald is frank, though it sounds curiously enough after the loud-mouthed professions of Unionism which we have lately heard from it.

Our neighbor discovers the "purest patriotism" in the character and conduct of the rebel General Stonewall Jackson. This is a virtue he never discovered or acknowledged in any person who has fought for the Union, from Lieutenant General Grant down to the humblest private. We should recollect that this fulsome praise of a rebel comes from a paper which argues that Stonewall Jackson, a Virginian, is a "patriot" because "he went with his State," while George H. Thomas, another Virginian, is a traitor because he "adhered to the enemy"—the United States—during the rebellion.

The copperheads are still casting about them to find why it was that the rebellion was quelled contrary to their predictions, expectations and desires. A California copperhead paper says:

> It is apparent now that the truth is coming to light that divided counsels were the cause which finally led to the subjugation of the Southern people. Dissensions arose, and with the assistance of the Pollards of the South the North achieved the victory.

Every utterance of copperheadism seems but to make it more apparent that the object of that party during the war was to distract and divide the people that the North might be subjugated by the traitors of the South.

The second volume of Napoleon's life of Julius Cæsar is published. This volume is said to be better written and more interesting than the first. It is interspersed with adroit passages, justifying Cæsar's coup d'etat, and so justifying the affair of December 24, 1851.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO JUNE 26.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—The Senate passed the House bill extending the Freedmen's Bureau two years with several amendments which were sent back to the House for concurrence. The Senate also refused by ayes 17 and noes 21 to take up the Niagara Ship Canal bill, which disposes of the matter for this session.

The Senate passed the bill creating the office of Surveyor [illegible] House [illegible] of the [illegible].

The [illegible] Committee [illegible] bill [illegible] for the relief [illegible] carrying mails from Boise City [illegible] reducing the [illegible].

The [illegible] bill for the transportation of nitro-glycerine reported an amendment extending its provisions to glycerine, or blasting oil or powder mixed with such oil or substance, changing the penalty from $5,000 to not less than $2,000 or more than $10,000, and requiring the substance to be surrounded with boxes of porous or other material that will be non-explosive when saturated with such oil or substance. Amendment agreed to and bill passed.

The tax bill, with 865 Senate amendments, was taken up in the House and Mr. Morrill moved that the whole subject be sent to the conference committee at once, but the House preferred to act on the amendments and the bill was accordingly referred to the ways and means committee for their report. The House then by a vote of 76 against 38 passed the Senate bill to extend the land grant in full, to amend the Pacific Railroad act. A long discussion on the bill was participated in by Stevens, Wilson of Iowa, Dawes, Higby and Kasson. Mr. Stevens explained the first section as simply due to the Kansas division from its having heretofore been manipulated and betrayed by operations now interested in the Omaha branch, and that the second section was to correct the fraud perpetrated in the report of the conference committee of the last Congress, whereby the California Company was prohibited from running eastward more than 150 miles. The following gentlemen voted nay on the passage of the bill: Messrs. Allen, Allison, Ames, Baldwin, Banks, Blaine, Boutwell, Chandler, Cook, Davis, Dawes, Deming, Elliott, Eldridge, Grinnell, Holmes, Hooper, Hubbard of Conn., Humphrey, Julian, Marston, Patterson, Perham, Pike, Sanford, Rice of Maine, Rice of Massachusetts, Wentworth, Wilson of Iowa, Windom.

The House committee on claims to-day, by a vote of 4 to 5, decided to postpone until next December any further consideration of the Senate bill for the relief of iron-clad contractors.

The Senate in executive session confirmed Gen. D. H. Strother as Consul at Buenos Ayres, and Gen. G. M. Dodge as Consul at Bremen. Gen. Dodge is a candidate for Congress in Iowa. The Senate also confirmed Daniel Mace as Postmaster at Lafayette, Ind. Gen. A. L. Mann as Collector of Internal Revenue at Chicago, and rejected Sloanaker, of wax-floor notoriety, for Collector of Philadelphia.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—The suit of Mayor Davidson vs. the Phoenix Insurance Company is on trial to-day before Judge Field. The action is brought to recover $25,000 on a policy of insurance given by defendants on the Union Hotel of Mokelumne Hill, which was destroyed by fire some months since. The defendants refuse to pay on the ground that the plaintiff in his application for insurance overestimated the value of the property. The appraisers appointed by Judge Hoffman in suit of Nanantual vs. steamship of Oregon, brought to recover $75,000 damages for the sinking of the bark Neal, reported to-day that the Oregon was built at New York in 1848, is 1,042 tons register and worth $34,000 in currency or $26,000 in gold.

The dead body of Richard Collett was found last evening in an advanced state of decomposition in a small shanty near Meigs' Wharf, where he had lived. Appearances indicate that he had been dead about ten days. He was 70 years of age.

James Boyle was arrested yesterday by detectives Lees and Ellis on a charge of forgery, his wife being the complainant.

Fire Marshal Durkee is engaged in making out his yearly official report up to the 1st of July proximo. His figures show the following statistical facts during the past year. There have been 210 fire alarms to 255 during the previous year. The amount of property destroyed this year greatly exceeds that of the previous year, the burning of the Pacific Warehouse alone effecting greater loss than the aggregate of fires during the year 1864 and 1865. In June, 1865 there were 45 alarms and 18 actual fires, while in the present month there have been but 28 alarms out of which there were 22 actual fires. It will be seen that the proportion of false alarms are decreasing as the workings of the Fire Alarm Telegraph are becoming better understood and its management more thoroughly systematized. Last year there were about 75 false alarms, while only about half that number were struck this year.

The suit of John B. Denis against Maria L. A. Denis for a divorce has been on trial before Judge Sawyer to-day. He sues for a separation on the ground of marital infidelity. He is an old man and she is a young woman.

The new opposition steamer S. G. Whipple, will make a trial trip to-morrow. She will commence running to Sacramento next week.

Markets.

Flour—Superfine in sacks per 100 lbs., $5@$5.25, in qr sacks, $5.25@$5.50; extra in sacks, $5.25@$5.50, qr sacks, $5.50@$6.

Wheat—There is very little inquiry and the market is unchanged. Sales include 1,250 sacks good milling and baker's extra in two lots at $1,65 per 100 lbs., and 2,300 sacks Red Bluff private.

Barley—Included in the sales are 300 sacks brewing at 87½c, and 1,000 sacks good feed in two lots at 80c per 100 lbs.

Oats—Sales of 950 sacks choice in two lots for export at $1,60. The range is about $1,37½@$1,50 per 100 lbs. for fair to choice. Very light oats will not bring the inside price.

Potatoes—Remain at 75c.@83c. per 100 lbs., small sales.

Private dispatches received since last quotation quote gold on the 24th at 149, and Sterling Exchange at 108@108¾. On the 25th Gold was 150 and Sterling 108. On the 26th Gold was 162½@164, the market fluctuating and weak, and Sterling at 108¼@108½. The requirements for the steamer to-morrow are large, with no change, however, in rates. There is a good demand for money at current rates.

The Legal Tender market is unsettled. Brokers quoted the market this morning at 71½ buying, and 72 selling, with little inclination to operate. This being steamer day, the general market is of course dull, and there are no transactions of any moment to report.

Mining Stocks.

The mining stock market shows a little more tone to-day from the morning board of yesterday. Yellow Jacket advanced $17 50; Savage $16; Imperial $1 50; Belcher $1 for Overman $1; Confidence $2 50. The following stocks declined from the same board: Gould & Curry $25, Ophir and Chollar Potosi each $5.

Legal tenders were sold at the morning board to the extent of $16,000 at 71½@71¾, and $10,000 7:30's, June issues, at 74.

Shipping.

Arrived, June 28—Ship Helios 18 days from Nanaimo; brig Sheet Anchor, 15 days from Port Ludlow.

Sailed—Hamburg ship Alma, Hong Kong.

Arrived, June 29—White Swallow.

FROM BIG BEND.

We are indebted to Mr. Haney, formerly of this city but now a resident of Marion county, for the following late news from Big Bend. Mr. Haney arrived here Wednesday evening:

He says there were in the mines, when he left, 1,200 men if not more. Many were stopping at Shuswap. There had been no new discoveries, on account of the deep snows. The claims found last fall were paying well. Goods were plenty, proportioned to the demand. French creek has been prospected and claimed for three miles. Six or eight of the claims only have been opened. The water was high and had washed out many of the stakes. From the head of French creek to Avalanche, there was nine feet of snow. The lateness of the season has occasioned serious loss and damage. When the water gets down there will be plenty of money taken out. Mr. Haney was one of the party of twenty-five men who were capsized while descending the Columbia in a small boat, of whom only nine were saved. The accident was occasioned by the bowman jumping overboard, which was followed by a panic among the remainder. The oars were thrown over to aid the drowning man and the boat consequently drifted without control. The catastrophe occurred between Wilson's Landing and La Porte. They were men who had come over the Victoria route.

Big Bend prices were as follows: Flour 60@65 cts. per pound, Coffee, $1 50; Tea, $3 00; Sugar, $1 25; Beans, 87 cts; Bacon, $1 50, and other articles in proportion.

Avalanche Creek is a mining stream for three miles. Five or six claims are opened, but not sunk to the bed rock, small pay as yet. On Carnes' Creek below, good pay has been obtained. Some new prospects are good—seventy-five cents to the pan, of very pretty gold. French Creek is flat and drainage indifferent. Avalanche and Carnes, have good drainage. The diggings thus far discovered are all creek diggings except at the head of Avalanche Creek where there are some hill diggings. Here, $15 to $20 per day could be obtained in four or five feet diggings if water could be had in plenty. Only such as melted and ran down from the snow, could be got.

Referring to the reports in the Victoria papers about the great number of Blackfoot miners returning to Big Bend, Mr. H. said there were only two or three Blackfoot men in the Big Bend diggings. About two hundred and eighty had left Big Bend, but no more than one in five of them had ever been in the diggings. They never went farther than the landing, on account of the contradictory reports in the Victoria papers. They were mostly men with little money and returned very much dissatisfied. When Mr. H. left, no places could be prospected. They are deep—from twenty-five to thirty-five feet and obstructed by large boulders. Drifting, at that depth, in the creek diggings, is the only practicable method.

LINCOLN'S GRAVE.—A letter from Springfield, Ill., in describing the grave of the late President, says: The vases and smoothed stones of the tomb are already written over in pencil with autographs of pilgrims who visited his shrine with a view to renew their devotions to their country and liberty, and the remarks which each one adds are expressive of the most tender affection and condolence, such as "I fought three years under his command, and would fight three more for the same cause under the same commander." "We all loved him." "He was beloved by all his soldiers," and many others of like import.

Since the burial of Mr. Lincoln within the precincts of "Oak Ridge" it has become indeed a "Mecca," whither pilgrims repair to renew their vows of fidelity to country, to humanity, and to God. Already the visitor's books, at the Curator's, contains the names of over 21,000 devotees from all parts of the world, while the sexton is confident that the number does not represent a tithe of those who have been drawn thither out of respect for the memory of the deceased.

Senator Doolittle sent Mayor L. V. Brice, of Akron, Ohio, a copy of his speech. The Mayor replied in a pungent letter, in which he said that if Mr. Johnson were now a candidate for re-election, "he would in Ohio get the copperhead vote and the votes of a few Postmasters, but of the Union men, not officeholders under him, he could not get a corporal's guard."

FROM MONTANA

A private letter from [illegible] Virginia City, Montana, [illegible] from St. Louis and the East, are constantly arriving at that and other points in the Territory and are [illegible] at prices [illegible]. [illegible] Virginia City [illegible] plenty. Montana [illegible] is equal to all that has been said of it. Its gold and silver bearing lodes are valuable and its placer diggings equal to those of any other mining country.

IN THE GALLERY [illegible] preserve the beauty of the teeth with Sozodont and they whom the charm looks [illegible] and the [illegible] years, the mouth will still reveal [illegible].

TRIED BY TIME.—For Throat Diseases, Colds and Coughs "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have proved their efficacy by a test of many years. The good effects resulting from the use of the Troches have brought out many worthless imitations. Obtain only "Brown's Bronchial Troches."

THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN.—The Weekly Oregonian is published this morning. It contains the latest telegraphic news from the Eastern [illegible] California [illegible] best [illegible] the Daily [illegible] full [illegible] and the most complete summary of information [illegible] by any paper in the State.

The average amount of reading matter in the Weekly Oregonian is double that published by any other journal in Oregon; and in the particular of commercial statistics and the Markets we aim to make it the most reliable, more especially in matters pertaining to Oregon interests.

Single copies 12½ cents; $3 00 per year to any part of the United States [illegible]

PUBLIC SCHOOL EXAMINATION.—The public schools of this city closed the term yesterday with an exhibition of the merits of the scholars, which we are informed, was quite satisfactory to all parties concerned. We regret that our business—coupled with an accident which gave us a wetting in the Willamette—prevented us from attending the examinations. The following is a copy of the report of the Principal for the term:

CENTRAL BUILDING.

RECAPITULATION.

Whole number enrolled	734
Average attendance	518

The following named pupils of my department were present every day during the past quarter, and nearly an equal number were only absent one day: Charles Burch, Frank Bolter, John Crawford, Ernst Doubleshower, Oscar Wills, Robert Dyer, Willie Hardison, Joseph Stearns, Gustavus Stearns, David Stearns, William Ennis, Alex Dart, Nora M. Egan, Mary Fairhurst, Susy Niesonger, Jane Stearns, Sophia Sharp, Kate Drew.

I desire to say that the session now closed has been to me one of much interest and pleasure, and were I to give the names of those pupils who are deserving of merit it would include nearly my whole roll.

R. K. WARREN.

A NEW ENTERPRISE.—A few days since we visited the newly inaugurated enterprise of Messrs Knott [illegible] at the corner of Front and Columbia streets and found [illegible] sewing machines running on Oregon woolen goods, which are manufactured into shirts, drawers, pantaloons, etc., for the trade of the mining regions. Mr. Andrew Roberts, late of Corvallis, is general Superintendent of the work. At present fourteen men and four women are constantly employed. The establishment will next week have twenty four sewing machines in operation, and when fully employed afford labor for forty persons. This we consider a very important branch of business, in our city, and it does not require any very great amount of mathematical knowledge to show that the concern will become a most profitable one in time. The value of such an establishment is illustrated, when we consider that we have heretofore sent the raw material to other thousands of miles away, at 18 and 20 cents per pound, and then received it back at $2 and $3 per pound. The wool of Oregon is equal to the best produced in the United States, and with such establishments as the Factory at Oregon City, Salem, or Dallas, we are capable of manufacturing the best of cloths, and why should it not be profitable to make at home the goods so produced from the sheep of our own pastures, into garments to be worn by many? It is perfectly practicable, and the gentlemen who have engaged in the enterprise are deserving of success.

FREIGHT AND PASSAGE REDUCED.—As will be seen by referring to the advertisement of Mr. Z. F. Moody, in another column, freight and passage has been reduced on the route to Montana, via Pen d'Oreille Lake. The fare now are for passengers $3, animals $2 00, and freight per ton $10, by the steamer Mary Moody, Capt. [illegible]. We learn from gentlemen who have lately arrived from Montana that the steamer Mary Moody is making regular trips every day, and is well patronized. The road east of Cabinet Landing is open, and no interruption occurs along the route through. The steamer of Messrs. Abrams & Co., which will run in connection with the Pen d'Oreille Lake steamer, is to be completed within a few weeks, as is also that of Messrs Humason & Savage to run in the same trade. The former will take the place of land travel between Cabinet Falls and Thompson Falls, and the latter will run between Thompson Falls and the mouth of the Jocko. That of Messrs. Abrams & Co. will be a steamer 113 feet in length, 22 feet beam, and four feet deep—with two engines of 13 inch cylinder each, four feet stroke. Messrs Humason & Savage are building a smaller steamer, it being 97 feet in length, 18½ feet beam, and four feet deep, to be propelled by two 10-inch cylinder engines, with a stroke of four feet.

WORK OF THE STEAM FIRE ENGINE.—The water in the basement of Mr. H. W. Corbett's store, corner of Front and Oak streets, having become stale, and promising to be a serious inconvenience, Mr. Millard made a proposition to Multnomah Engine Company to pump it out, which was accepted, and last evening the steamer was taken to the premises and put to work for the purpose of making a practical test of her "bottom." The engine was started at fifteen minutes past eight o'clock, and at twelve minutes past ten the water was reduced twenty-five inches, for the space of twenty-four by 80 feet. As the water is constantly coming into the basement no accurate estimate could be made of the amount pumped by the machine, but judging by the test as above indicated it would appear that more crazy projects have been entertained than would seem from a trial of Multnomah's Steamer to pump the Willamette dry. She is skookum.

FALLING.—The river yesterday stood twenty-one feet above low water mark at this city, and was falling slowly. Persons whose experience should entitle them to good judgment in such matters, assert that we shall be troubled this summer with no further rise. Accounts from above, as far up the Columbia as La Porte, 700 miles from Portland, agree in stating that there was never before known, since the settlement of the region by white man, so backward and unfavorable a season. Ten days ago snow was nine feet deep at the head of Avalanche creek, a tributary of the Columbia river, debouching near La Porte.

THE CASCADES.—"Lookilltems" having for about fifteen months contemplated a visit to the famous Cascades of the Columbia, finds it convenient to be off to-day. The steamer Cascade of the Oregon Steam Navigation Company's line has been chartered for the occasion, and will run to the falls, leaving Portland this morning at five o'clock, under command of Capt. John Wolfe. If possible the Cascade Band will attend the excursion. Superintendent Brasse and Frank Dodge have been provided with state rooms.

BASE BALL.—The young men of Portland who have organized themselves into a club for athletic sports, will play a game of Base Ball upon their grounds west of the [illegible] Iron Works on Monday evening. The "meetings" are patronized by the youth and beauty of our fair city quite extensively, and the matches are generally of the most gratifying character, both to the participants and the spectators.

FINE STRAWBERRIES.—We were presented on Wednesday with some of the finest strawberries we have ever seen, which were grown in the garden of Mr. Prettyman, on the east side of the river. Some of them measure 4½ inches in circumference. A great number of strawberries, though all as large as those, would very soon vanish any day, if brought within the four walls of this office.

ARRIVAL.—The bark Jane A. Falkinburg, Capt. Wm. H. Russell, arrived yesterday from San Francisco, with 2,800 feet of red wood lumber, and 6,657 packages of [illegible], consigned to H. Failing, H. W. Corbett, E. J. Northrup, Knapp, Burrell & Co., Smith & Davis, A. S. Abernethy, Everding & Beebe, John West, Milwain & [illegible], D. Hubbard, and others. The Falkinburg left San Francisco on the 8th, and sailed to her dock in this city.

BIG BEND.—In addition to the news from Big Bend published in our columns to-day, we have had the pleasure of reading a private letter which states that one company have "cleaned up" from their sluices on French Creek as follows: Least result of one day eight ounces—greatest result thirty ounces. This shows that money is there.

CHERRIES.—Mr. G. W. Walling, of the Willamette Orchard, south of this city, yesterday left at our office samples of eight elegant varieties of cherries, cultivated by him from the seed. They were equal in flavor and appearance to the celebrated cherries we read about and were quite as palatable.

CIRCUIT COURT.—E. D. Shattuck Judge.—June 29th 1866. A. J. Hoffman vs. Anna A. Hoffman. Divorce granted. Court adjourned until Monday July 16th, at which time the case of the State vs. Edward Mitchell indicted for murder in the first degree will be tried.

COUNTY COURT.—The July term of the County Court for Multnomah county, Judge Marquam, will [illegible] at the Court House in this city on Monday next July [illegible].

DIVINE SERVICE.—Rev. D. Rutledge will [illegible] M. E. Church of this city to-morrow at 10½ o'clock July 1st. Rev. B. C. Lippincott will deliver a discourse in the evening on "Shameful Life."

CARD CASE.—A lady's pearl card case, supposed to belong to Miss Dora Jacob, will be found at this office. The inscription inside leads us to believe that it was a Christmas gift, 1863.

CITY LICENSE.—City Marshal Hoyt has something of importance to say to all saloon keepers and others requiring license, which will be found in another column. This is June 30th.

FOUND.—A ladies' cameo brooch was found on the street yesterday, and left at the OREGONIAN counting room, for the owner.

CAMP MEETING.—A camp meeting is in progress at Ames' Chapel, seven miles west of this city.

ORIZABA.—Leaves San Francisco for this city to-day.

J. M. Kirkpatrick was nominated for Delegate to Congress, on the second ballot, G. I. Gilbert being the next highest competitor.

MILITARY MOVEMENTS.

Captain Walker started yesterday with his company, numbering eighty five men, for camp C. F. Smith on White Horse Creek. He is ordered to establish a post there and make quarters to accommodate one or two companies next winter. The camp is situated about seventy miles this side of Fort McDermit. He will, when reinforced, as he expects to be soon with cavalry, scour the country in the vicinity of Stein's mountain. Capt. Collins is under orders to go in the same direction to find their hiding place of the Indians.

Major Marshall has received word from the Bruneau that a band of Indians, would not learn their name, came upon the reservation and drove them away, declaring they would kill any Indians who would not fight the whites. A detachment will be dispatched to look after them in a day or two.

All Persons should test the merits of DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. While it is highly palatable as a beverage, it is unequalled as a tonic and invigorator. In the pursuit of fortune at the mines many persons are exposed to the attacks of complaints of the digestive organs and of various kinds of fever. It is the very article that has so long been in demand at the mines. Its daily use will restore the tone of a deranged stomach, impart fresh vitality to the digestive functions, and cheer the spirits. Yet the Bitters is the safest of all stimulants. Let the miner who is exposed to hot and dry, wet and cold, be certain to obtain a supply of the genuine Hostetter Bitters, and he will find it a certain safeguard to health. Sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. fe20 HODGE, CALEF & Co., 97, Front St.

The reason why so many die with Consumption is because they neglect to use the proper remedy in season. When the system is first attacked with a cough, oppression of the chest, or seated pains in the breast, ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will cause the phlegm to raise, heals the irritated parts and restores the system to health. HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS

READ AND REFLECT.

Make sure of HEALTH—"But how?" you ask;
We answer, 'tis an easy task,
Strengthen the STOMACH, and sustain
The NERVES, the servants of the brain.
The LIVER keep in active play
And regulate, from day to day.
Each organ aid, on Nature's plan,
Brace and refresh the INNER MAN,
And like a watch that's kept in chime
By constant care, with railroad time,
The system's tone and strength renew,
And thereby cheer the spirits, too.
"How" you inquire, "can this be done?
This Victory o'er Disease be won?"
"HOSTETTER'S BITTERS," we reply,
Is HEALTH'S SUREST PROTECTION—TRY!

As a means of regenerating the disordered and enfeebled system, regulating every function of the internal organs, reviving the depressed spirits, invigorating the constitution, and prolonging life, no medicinal preparation, either of the past or the present time, has been so completely and universally successful as

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

Against the vapors fell prepare,
That fever-taint the heavy air
Drink not unmixed the water found
In prairies, woods or marshy ground.
If sedentary toil you ply,
Nature you must assist—or die—
For when debarred from exercise
For artificial aid she cries.
Medicine a grand purpose and intent
Is threatened evil to prevent
And if you'd be relieved or spared
From ills that crush the unprepared,
Hostetter's Bitters use—for note
They are THE SUREST ANTIDOTE.

To set at defiance the miasma of unhealthy soils, the poison of unwholesome water, the effluvia of crowded work-rooms and factories, and the baneful influence of sedentary employments, it is only necessary to be forearmed with

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

Dyspepsia's pangs, that rack and grind
The body, and depress the mind
Agues that as they go and come,
Make life a constant martyrdom;
Colics and dysenteric pains,
'Neath which the strong man's vigor wanes;
Billious complaints, those tedious ills,
Ne'er conquered yet by drastic pills;
Dread diarrhoea that cannot be
Cured by destructive mercury;
Slow constitutional decay
That brings Death nearer, day by day;
Nervous prostration, mental gloom—
Heralds of madness or the tomb;
For these—though mineral nostrums fail—
Means of Relief at least we hail,
HOSTETTER'S BITTERS—medicine sure,
Not to prevent alone, but cure.

In dyspepsia, fever and ague billious complaints, constitutional and nervous debility, constipation, sea sickness, spasms, and in all complaints of Man or Woman, proceeding from casual or inherent weakness of the body, the one great remedy and restorative is

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

To wanderers on sea or land,
From Polar shore to Tropic strand;
To households lone in regions new,
And dwellers in great cities, too;
To soldiers in camp, fort and field,
Who need against disease a shield;
To miners, California bound;
And tillers of wet marshy ground;
To feeble wives of fragile mold,
To young and middle aged, and old,
To those in health, who would enjoy
Heaven's best gifts without alloy;
To all the strengthless, weak and pale,
Who droop yet know not what they ail,
Hostetter's Bitters we present
As Health's most potent element.

If there is any value in public opinion, or any weight in medical testimony, the very best and safest Tonic, Corrective and Alterative now before the world is

G. VENARD,
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER NOS 695 AND 697 FRONT ST

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

A DIPLOMATIC CURIOSITY.—Is the Augsburg Gazette safe authority for the future of diplomacy? The editor has been favored with a glimpse at portions of the eighth volume of Gervinus' Nineteenth Century, and he is able to give us a sketch of Prince Polignac's proposed partition of Europe in 1828. It is yet a wider scheme than that put forth in Lamartine's name in 1848. France and Russia are to make everything comfortable between them, and England is to be nowhere; indeed, the "sop" for Prussia and the other Powers is "the freedom of the seas, for which France will labor in the most disinterested way."

The whole document, if authentic, throws a good deal of light on a somewhat different "out-of-the-way corner of diplomacy" from that into which we looked the other day. Russia, by the way, is described as playing a very double part. First, the Emperor and Metternich want to dismember Turkey without consulting France. Prussia has much ado to convince them that the thing cannot be done. Foiled here, the Czar is described as coming to France with proposals such as we were told he made to England in 1853. The French Royalists like the idea immensely. Chateaubriand, then Ambassador in Rome, writes about it to Laferronnay, who is soon succeeded by Polignac. Then Royal Councils are held, the complete records of which were destroyed when the Hotel des Affaires Etrangers was sacked in 1830. Fragments, however, were published in the Expectateur Royaliste in 1842; and, of course, Napoleon III. is supposed to know exactly what arrangements were proposed. Polignac's idea was that the treaty of Vienna was a mistake: it left Prussia too weak, and so gave some show of reason to that English bugbear, "the overwhelming predominance of Russia," the only thing really formidable being the English Navy. Hence Prussia must be a naval Power—she must have the Netherlands; France just stretching her frontier as far as the Meuse and the mouth of the Scheldt—"so much is necessary for the protection of Paris." Saxony, too, would be safer in Prussian hands. Saxony, however, is not to be utterly ruined, though she was faithful to Napoleon. A "kingdom of Austrasia," between the Rhine and Meuse, may be shaped out for her. Russia, of course, gets Constantinople and other good pickings "as much as possible in the direction of India, so as to keep her at loggerheads with England." Bosnia and Servia go to Austria; the rest of European Turkey will console the King of Netherlands. Give Turkey in Asia (what Russia does not want) to Mehemet Ali, and his good-will to France will be secured. What England thinks is apparently a matter of indifference, for nothing more valuable than the "Dutch colonies" is to be offered to her as hush-money.

At a second council the Dauphin was very anxious to get the Rhine frontiers instead of the Scheldt. He thought England would never consent to let France have Antwerp. "That's just why we must go in for Antwerp," replied Polignac. "England can't help herself. If we are thwarting her, so much the better; and Germany will never give us the Rhine. We must appear as liberators of the seas, and then every one but England will be on our side." Polignac's view, says Gervinus, or, at any rate, the Augsburg Gazette prevailed. A dispatch was sent to the Count de Mortemart at St. Petersburg, with the caution that "if peace was made between Russia and Turkey, he was to act just as if he had never been sent." The peace of Adrianople came just in time to keep the Count's mouth shut. Had there been an electric telegraph in those days—who knows? the "sick man's" lease of life might have been cut short at once, and our naval supremacy might have been overthrown years ago at a coup. The remarkable feature in the arrangement is the extreme moderation of France; all she wishes for is Antwerp and some "colonies in the Mediterranean." One thing is certain, people will watch for Gervinus' new volume, and will look pretty narrowly to the proofs which he may be able to give of this remarkable conspiracy.—Pall Mall Gazette.

NORTHERN PRODUCTS IN THE SOUTH.—A correspondent of the Memphis Post, over the signature of "Buttermilk, Bonnyclapper & Co.," gets off the following hit on those who have made great pretentions that they would not use any Northern products:

The undersigned have, for a long time, been shocked at an enormity that has existed and been tolerated in Memphis long enough without any attempt to expose or to stop it. There are business houses here, carried on by Southern gentlemen of unexceptionable record in other respects—that is, they were overpowered, and were obliged to remain here during Federal possession, and found it for their interest to stand well at headquarters, as numerous jugs of whisky and boxes of cigars can testify. We say there are such houses that now unblushingly announce that they have for sale 'Northern butter,' 'Western Reserve cheese,' and eggs and chickens just received by the boat from Cairo! And such creatures dare to put such advertisements in the Avalanche! [rebel sheet.] Northern butter! Why, does every one know that some of this butter is spanked for the Southern market, in the morning, by women who put on calico and silks in the afternoon, and play national airs on their Boston pianos, and write spicy loyal articles for the Atlantic and New York Tribune? We submit that this is 'spreading it on a little too thick.'

Western Reserve cheese! The cow that give the milk, that makes the curd, that forms this cheese, eats grass that grows in the Congressional district once represented by that hoary-headed old reprobate, Joshua R. Giddings. No wonder the milk curdles into cheese! Yet think of recommending this to Southern palates? This won't do. It is not quite the cheese.

A similar objection lies, or perhaps lays against the eggs. The industrious hens and pullets cluck and cackle over their successful achievements without any regard to parallels of latitude, and swaggering chanticleers, every morning, shamelessly proclaim with stentorian voice their domestic relations with could persistently turned toward the East instead of showing a just reverence for the South.

To put a stop to this great wickedness, the undersigned, at great expense and labor, have fitted up a magnificent establishment for the purpose of supplying loyal Southern families with reliable articles of Southern butter and Southern cheese. Our butter has the recommendation of a pure and delicate whiteness, without any suspicious yellow tinge indicative always of an odious partiality for color. After a proper introduction, we think it will be able to hold its own in the market by its intrinsic Strength.

We shall be a little slow in our arrangements for a regular supply of cheese, but our friends may be assured that our article will be slowly crawling into favor before summer is over, and will surely be an 'offense' to Western Reserve Abolitionists as 'rank' as the crime of Hamlet's uncle. It will 'smell to heaven.'

PUNCHING THE LITERARY LIONS.—The Round Table, which is a sort of keeper in the literary menagerie, is just now stirring up its animals with a long pole. It declares, in effect, that they are lazy, dull, stupid; have eaten too much dinner, or are dying before their time. Thus it stirs its stick among them:

"What are American writers doing to day? Bryant, Longfellow, Whittier, Lowell, Holmes, Curtis, Mitchell, Holland, Stoddard—who has produced or is producing any distinctive work? Baring Mr. Longfellow's translation of Dante, we know of nothing that is likely to bring any credit to our literature. Mrs. Stowe and Gail Hamilton seem to have exhausted their stock of originality. Bancroft lets the 'History of the United States' drag along with no encouragement of an early completion. Grace Greenwood, Fanny Fern and Rose Terry appear to have reached the limit of their power and genius. They have passed from the stage. Even Brownell, Boker, and Leland are dumb. From Mr. Tuckerman we have a volume of essays only tolerable. The pen of James Parton has no theme, and Headley has disappeared at about the same time with J. S. C. Abbott. Not even the recent war finds a worthy historian or a poet. In fact, the literary field was never so barren, never so utterly without hope or life. Meanwhile, Sylvanus Cobb, Mrs. Southworth and Mrs. Stephens are having a boundless opportunity, and 'The Gold Brick' is the best selling book of the year. Unhappy facts! Disgrace to our scholars and authors! * * * * Our writers do not seem to gain on themselves. Longfellow has never written anything so good as 'Evangeline'. Mitchel has never equaled his first volume of 'Reveries'; Holland grew brilliant with 'Bitter Sweet,' and has never written anything to compare with it.; Holmes retired on the glory that came from the 'Autocrat'; Stoddard gives us the 'King's Bell,' and nothing since; and Bayard Taylor does not seem to have the old-time fire. * * We want a great poem from some poet, or a startling volume of essays from some new hand—somebody who will help us to think and to do. We are sick and tired of this never-ending stream of insipidity, weakness and puerility. Either genius has left us or is too indolent to make itself known. Who will awaken us from this sleep? Who will first show us the signs of a genuine literary reviving?"

MARRIAGES, BIRTHS AND DEATHS IN ENGLAND.—A return has been issued, from which it appears that in the year 1865 there were 185,520 marriages, 747,870 births, and 491,309 deaths in England. Of those born, 381,426 were males, and 366,444 females. Within the year there were 252,674 deaths of males, and 238,735 of females.

THE PLUNDER OF THE PIRATE "SHENANDOAH."—J. C. Carby, the United States Despatch Agent at the port of New York, has received from the United States Consul at Liverpool, J. H. Dudley, the following articles found on board the pirate Shenandoah when she was handed over to him by the British authorities. They arrived at New York recently in the ship Colorado, Capt. Russell:

27 chronometers, 1 box specie, 123 packages, (contents unknown,) 11 guns, 1 box specie, 1 gun, from the pirate Sumter, 1 carriage, 1 ramrod, 1 shot, 2 cases sextants, 2 bales charts, 1 case books, etc., 6 cases of rifles, etc., 1 box clocks, etc.; 8 cases gun gear, 1 bag and 2 barrels boots, etc., 2 writing desks, 4 bags (treat) and flags, 1 box flags and English ensigns, 1 bundle pikes, etc., 1 bundle magazine tools, 1 case percussion caps, 2 brass guns, 8 guns, 8 gun carriages, 11 handspikes, 4 bundles rammers, etc.; 1 bag drills, etc.; 1 box medicine, etc.; 5 bales, 7 chests tea, 48 boxes tobacco.

The cannon and other war material will be sent to the Brooklyn Navy Yard. The chronometers and sextants will be delivered to the rightful owners when they apply for them. The remaining articles will be sold at auction.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

PORTLAND, June 29, 1866.

We have no particular alterations to note in matters of a financial character for the week past. The demand for telegraphic exchange on New York has continued much the same as previously noted, and rates to-day are 4 ⅌ cent., but on account of the unsettled condition of the Eastern money market, leading bankers have refused to transact very much business of this nature. Legal tender notes are sought with more favor in consequence of the near approach to the time of paying revenue taxes, and the price is firm to-day at 72 cents.

We append from the speech of Hon. N. P. Banks, in the United States Congress, on March 14th, upon the subject of the Paris exposition of 1867, and the representation of America, the following as showing a few leading features of the position and power of the United States in a commercial point, which is scarcely contemplated by the people of other countries:

"In regard to the mineral and commercial regions on the Pacific coast, it is of the greatest importance that a representative of scientific and practical skill should be able to present to the people of the Old World an idea of the capacities and resources of that part of our country, and also make known to us, in return, what advantages may be derived from this Industrial Exhibition.

"The mineral wealth of this country is fabulous. No man would be credited for a moment in the industrial council of nations, next year, if he stated upon his own responsibility what is the possible, even the probable, development of the mineral wealth of this country. Our metalliferous regions embrace seventeen parallels of latitude, and nearly an equal measure of longitude, covering 2,000,000 square miles, the whole of which is plethoric with iron, lead, copper, asphaltum, silver, quicksilver, gold, and other known and unknown mineral substances.

"California has already given us $100,000,000 in gold. The same energy applied to other mineral regions of the Pacific will return an annual product of $400,000,000 in gold, and $200,000,000 in other useful and precious metals. Six hundred million dollars a year! In the centre of the continent, between our most populous States, on the threshold of our commercial cities, at the doors of the mints of Philadelphia and San Francisco, lies this deposit! Its value is inappreciable, its presence unquestionable, its proximity undeniable, and its realization demands but the completion of the lines of transportation now in process of construction. What in the world is equal to it? What are the mines of Spain, of India, and Australia? Russia alone offers material for comparison: Russia, whose metallic wealth lies mainly upon the eastern slope of the Ural Mountains, from three to five thousand miles from the center of commerce and population; cut off from the artificial and natural lines of communication, and offering no available natural outlet except the waters that flow from the mountains northward into the Arctic Sea.

"Our cereal products double in quantity every ten years. They are now larger than the grain crops of France, equal to those of England, and in ten years will exceed the crops of both empires. Lamartine, in his letter justifying the French occupation of Mexico, says distinctly that the North American continent is to become the granary of the world, and that France must control a portion of its territory or be subordinate to the Government and people of the United States.

"The cotton crop gives employment to forty million Europeans. It has been cultivated in eight States, mainly in but five. Its largest product has been 5,000,000 bales a year. It can be successfully and profitably cultivated in twenty States, certainly in half of the States of the Union, and instead of being limited to 5,000,000, we will soon send to the markets of the world 20,000,000 bales each year.

"The grape is an indigenous product of this country. On the Pacific coast, in the valley of the Mississippi, on the Ohio, and in other sections, there is evidence abundant and irresistible that we shall soon share, at least, with the rest of the world in the control of its wine markets. We already export wines, with other agricultural products, from the Pacific coast to South America, Australia, the Sandwich Islands, Japan and the Asiatic nations.

"Let us look at another subject in which we have or ought to have some interest. It is the American railway system. The railway is a new element of civilization and power. We have thirty-one thousand miles of railroads—four times as much as England—more than any other country. We can build as much as we want, and as soon as we please. Other nations count the cost, but we have no cost, for to invest in a railway is to give value to property existing in other forms. The construction of our railways has cost us $1,100,000,000. Eight hundred millions, as I stated the other day, were expended between 1850 and 1860; and I have no doubt that between 1870 and 1880, $1,000,000,000 more will be invested, so that we shall have a railway to every part of this country connecting all the points of domestic wealth with the commerce of the world, whether it be the coal of Pennsylvania, the lead of Illinois, the copper of Michigan, or the gold and silver of the Pacific coast."

The remaining $45,000, of the 100,000 capital stock issue of the First National Bank at this city is expected, the coming month.

Wholesale and Jobbing Prices.

PORTLAND, June 22d, 1866.

Business has been more or less interrupted in consequence of the unsatisfactory intelligence received by telegraph for some weeks past, but no material alterations are observed in prices. We quote the following from Messrs. McCraken, Merrill & Co.'s circular, giving their views in this particular.

"The infrequency (fitful working) of the wires is very annoying to our merchants and business men, seeking prompt advices from their friends abroad concerning commercial and financial interests. The serious fluctuations in Gold are watched attentively by our financiers, while every arrival from England brings us more or less of detail concerning the financial crisis. These have a depressing influence upon trade and commerce, in sympathy, at least, they affect us, even if our people suffer no real loss by the failures in London and elsewhere. Thus far our merchants have we believe, escaped all losses and entanglements growing out of the financial disasters in England, and we trust will ride out the storm in safety.

The wire is now in order to the East, and it is expected that before another week passes trade will be permanently settled. Prices are firm at our quotations. Coffee appears to favor the buyer, although there is no special inquiry. Yeast Powders, which have been at uniform rates for months, are to-day a little below the standard.

Domestic Produce Market.

PORTLAND, June 29, 1866.

There is no change in the domestic produce market. Eggs are in better demand, and advanced prices are noted. The flour market is nominally the same as previously quoted. Wool continues to arrive in small lots, and sales are reported at prices varying from 21 to 23 cts. per lb. The San Francisco Flag of June 16th, says with reference to wool in that market, that those most likely to know, assert that the wool clip of California for 1866, will fall short at least two million of pounds from previous calculations, and that the most desirable clips have been secured—bought up by the agents of woolen mills, who have been diligent in procuring, thus early, full stocks for manufacturing purposes.

Prices at that were within the range of 18@22 cts per lb. for fleece. Burry ruled from 10 to 12½ per lb. sales were reported of 200,000 lbs for shipment to the East principally on growers account.

There are three principal buyers at the Portland market and the best Pacific coast grades in the East all coming from Oregon, something should be done to prevent our wool from entering Eastern markets under the classification of California wool. The best quality of California wool is inferior to the wool of Oregon, and this being true Portland should be the principal market on the Pacific coast. Buyers are offering the following prices today for domestic produce:

LEFFEL'S

American Double Turbine Water Wheel

IS NOW MANUFACTURED BY THE OREGON IRON Works, in the city of Portland, and orders for the same can be filled immediately. We have a small supply of the different sizes from 10 inches to 48 inches in diameter. That we may know the proper sized wheel you require, measure your water in the following way: Take the width of the stream, the average depth, and the distance it flows in a minute.

All the wheels now in use give universal satisfaction. Both the construction of the wheel and its performance, commend it to the [illegible] judgement of all minds capable of appreciating the highest development of mechanical construction. Therefore it has conquered the most violent opposition.

This wheel is especially adapted to mining purposes. It is light, and can be easily packed into the mountains. Wheels weighing from 100 to 300 pounds will yield from 15 to 40 horse power, under a head of 25 to 70 feet. They are the cheapest wheel to set up known, as they are so arranged as to produce the greatest power possible from the water used.

The prices of these wheels have now been reduced to the ability of all. Come and see them or send for a circular to LEFFEL & MYERS,

LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,

Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time.

Medical.

DR. CHAS. H. TOZER'S

PRIVATE MEDICAL INSTITUTE,

N. E. Cor. Jackson and Kearney Sts.,

SAN FRANCISCO.

THE GREAT ERADICATOR OF SPECIAL COMPLAINTS, FORMERLY OF LOCKE HOSPITAL, LONDON, EIGHT YEARS IN SACRAMENTO, AND THE LAST THREE YEARS IN SAN FRANCISCO.

DR. TOZER'S

Experience is of forty years standing, and during that time has met with unparalleled success in the treatment of all those diseases generally known as Venereal or Chronic.

It is impossible here to mention all the diseases with which he is familiar; some, perhaps, will not be out of place. The most formidable, the most destructive to mankind is Self Abuse. The brain being the seat of the disease the whole system suffers in consequence. I will here enumerate some of the symptoms, so that those afflicted may be able to form an opinion in regard to their complaints, and seek advice in time, thereby saving themselves a world of suffering: Nervous Debility, Loss of Memory, Pain in the Limbs and Back, Palpitation of the Heart, Trembling of the Limbs, Headache, and an Aversion to Genial Society, especially that of Females. There are a great many more, but these are sufficient, and should you be suffering from any of them, call on DR. TOZER, and he will cure you in a short time, without any interruption to your business—or state your case by letter and there will be no occasion for your calling at the office.

Stricture of the Urethra

Is another formidable enemy to health. Send for one of my circulars on that disease, and inform yourself of its terrible results. The worst cases cured in a few days.

Venereal Diseases

In all their various forms, either Primary, Secondary or Hereditary, completely eradicated from the system. The constitution being restored to perfect health, there will be no danger of handing down to your children that terrible disease known as Scrofula.

Syphilitic Disease

As it presents itself on this coast, is of a more formidable character than that seen in the Atlantic States or Europe, arising from the fact of its being a compound of Spanish, Chinese and Sandwich Island disease. Those of you who have visited the two latter countries no doubt have seen the dreadful effects of it on both the native and foreign population. It requires altogether different modes of treatment.

The Old Formulas

Of Ricord, Acton and Bostwick are of little account, except to dry up the disease on the surface, leaving the poison in the blood, which, sooner or later, will show itself as a secondary disease in an aggravated form. These facts I have learned by experience, and think that I may say without boasting that I have seen more practice in these diseases than any other physician in California, dating as it does from 1849. It becomes you, therefore, to think well, before you employ a physician.

Who is the proper one to consult—an old experienced one or one who has recently settled amongst you?

My Plan is Purely Vegetable,

Destroying the disease and purifying the blood, so that there is no danger of secondary symptoms.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia,

And diseases arising from the use of Mercury, such as pains in the shin-bones, swelling of the different joints of the body, running sores, etc., etc., and impurities of the blood, cured in a short time by the use of my VEGETABLE MIXTURES, known only to myself.

Diseases Peculiar to Females,

Such as Retention, Painful Menstruation, etc., etc., have been my study for a great number of years, and I can safely promise a perfect cure in a short time.

Be not deterred from calling on Dr. TOZER from delicacy or a fear of exposure, as the Doctor is a man in whom you can trust, and all cases are treated with the utmost secrecy.

My Female Pills

Are the best ever used in this climate for the Suppression of the Monthly Sickness. Every lady should have a box in case of necessity. Price, $5. Consultation, at the office or by letter, FREE. All letters returned or destroyed. Office hours from 9 A. M. till 8 P. M.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE,

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES,

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

617 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of wedlock, or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid state thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are afflicted with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies so that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent men from Europe and other places. He therefore would ask after strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, feted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief is not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 617 Kearney street, near Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

Consultations FREE.

Prevention Better than Cure.

The newly invented Patent French Safe, a sure Preventive against Disease and Pregnancy, sent by mail. Price $2. Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 617 Kearney St., near Commercial, San Francisco. Postoffice Box 952.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily O.
